James Morrison

04/10/2010 12:48

Australian multi-instrumentalist James Morrison will return to Europe in spring 2011 for performances as soloist with symphony orchester, bigband, and brassband. Amoung others he will perform with Kristjan Järvi, but also the Juvavum Brass Band in Austria.

James Morrison has already in the past worked together very successfully with Juvavum Brass. Together they have created a whole new and original repertoire that will be performed at those shows in June 2011.